DINNING OBJECTS BUT WITHOUT AVAIL TO ELECTION

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERS GOOD-NATUREDLY RAILROAD HIM TO RE-ELECTION AS PRESIDENT.

W. H. Dinning, president of the Chamber of Commerce, made a strenuous but ineffectual attempt Tuesday night to impress upon the members the urgency of appointing his successor at the annual election of officers. Bringing into play genuine steam-roller politics, the members neatly and unanimously voted him into office to succeed himself.

It all happened very simply. City Attorney J. W. Coleberd quietly arose, following the president's statement, and moved that the re-election of the present officers be made unanimous. Dinning jumped up to protest, but the motion had been immediately seconded and good-natured cries of "You're out of order" came from the gathering. The question was put from the floor, carried by acclamation, and when the official who has served the organization so ably since his election attempted to remonstrate, expostulate and plead for a hearing good-natured railery as to his conduct being unconstitutional and unparliamentary was his only answer.

Elected or Drafted.

E. C. Peck naively interjected the remark: "If you don't like the job you can resign, but you're now elected or drafted, just as you like." Following this, Dinning's further attempt to secure recognition was effectually blocked by Fred Cunningham's motion to adjourn, which was promptly seconded, leaving no further opportunity for Dinning to protest at the very complimentary but what he claims to be exceedingly unparliamentary method of election. As the crowd gathered about the re-elected (?) president to congratulate him, he averred that the secretary would be instructed to send out notices that the annual election of officers will be held at the next meeting. The members gave a combined scoff at the mere suggestion of such a procedure, which left Secretary Walker between the Kaiser and the deep sea as to just what is the proper method to pursue. In any event, it is a foregone conclusion that the members of the Chamber are determined not to let the present officers step down and out if it can be accomplished "by fair means or foul."

Switching Case Up.

In the regular course of business it was voted to renew the membership of the Chamber in the Civic League of Improvement Clubs and Associations.

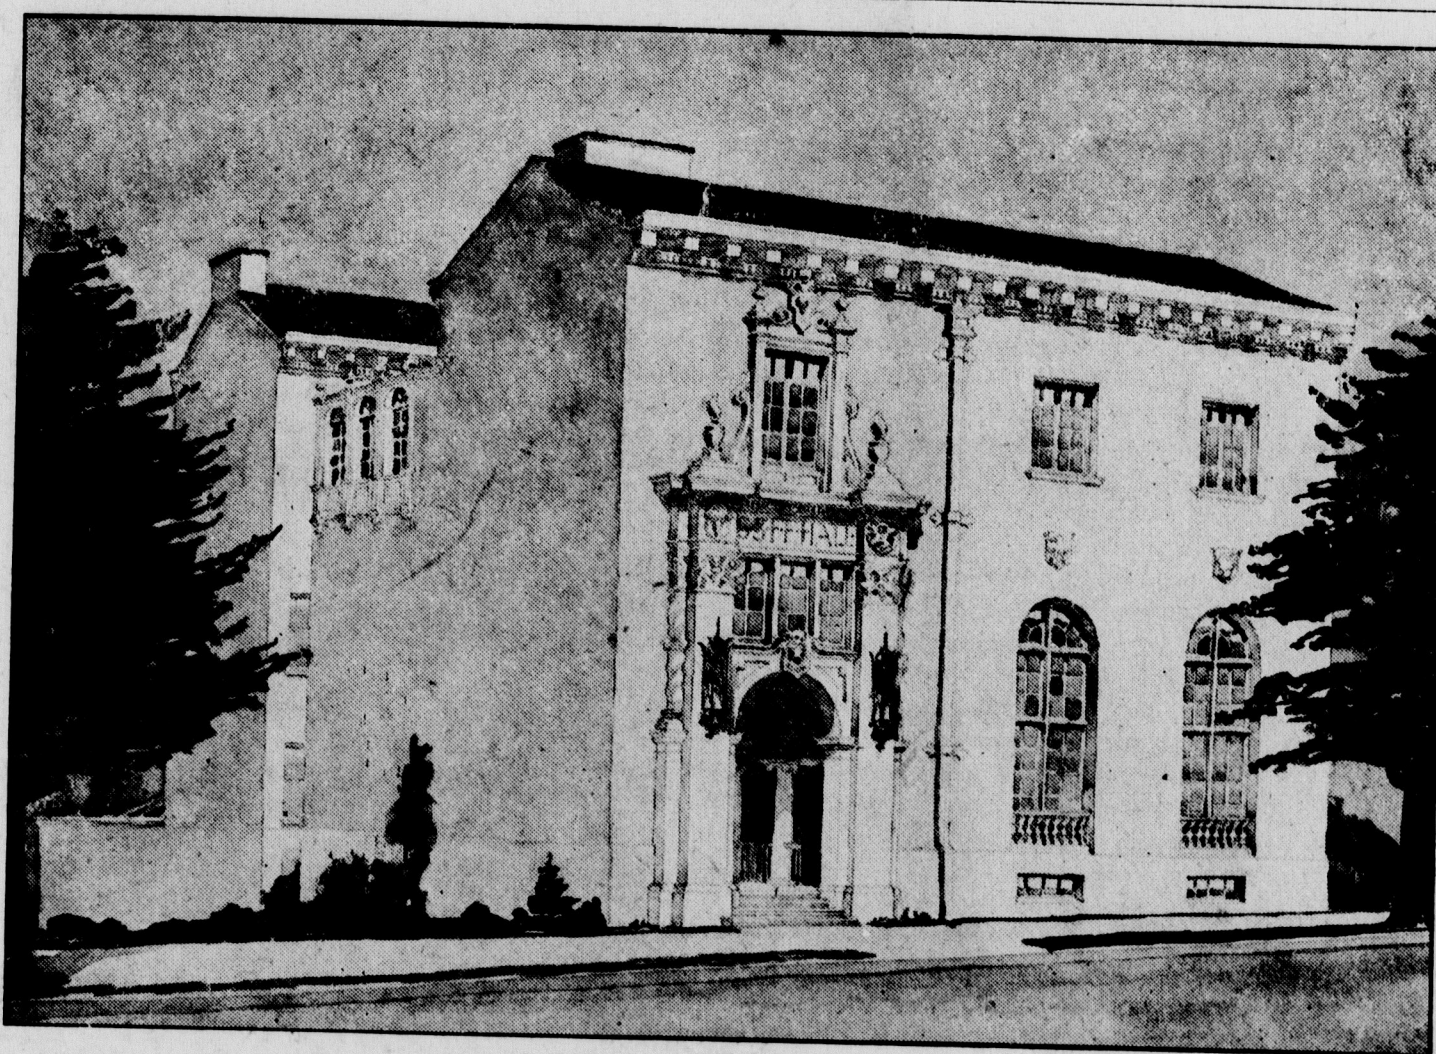

A committee to attend the hearing of the switching case of the Chamber of Commerce versus Southern Pacific Company before the State Railroad Commission on January 18th was selected. Those delegated to attend are P. R. Thompson, Dr. J. C. McGovern, J. W. Coleberd, F. A. Cunningham, Ambrose McSweeney, Dr. F. S. Dolley, E. C. Peck, Supervisor Tom Hickey, W. J. Martin, W. H. Dinning, J. G. Walker, A. P. Scott, J. Carmody, D. Garle, W. H. Coffinberry, S. Nieri and W. C. Schneider. The Board of Trustees will also constitute part of the committee.

The subject of insurance and fire protection, in connection with the building of the new City Hall, brought forth considerable discussion. McNellis and Truax, who live in Peck's subdivision, pleaded for local fire protection for that locality and asked that a hose cart and hose be supplied the district. After some consideration the request was granted.

TEMPLE OF FRATERNALISM TO COST $25,000

Beautiful Structure Being Reared on Grand Avenue by Fraternal Hall Association, to Be Devoted Exclusively to Lodge Meetings and Social Affairs, Will Be Dedicated July 4th

Fraternal Hall Association building, the new South San Francisco home of fraternalism.

A full basement will contain bowling alleys, billiard and pool tables. The Auditorium and ballroom cover a floor space 30x100 feet, with a well-equipped stage at the extreme end. Two lodgerooms, each 30x50 feet, will occupy the second floor. On the mezzanine floor, which is built with balconies permitting a view of the auditorium, will be banquet hall and smoking-rooms. Hard cement, with an elaborate decorative effect, is to be the exterior style of construction. G. E. McCrea is the architect; Paul K. Jones, contractor.

The Fraternal Hall Association, which is now constructing a $25,000 building on Grand avenue, was organized in 1908, in the residence of W. C. Schneider. Harry Styles was appointed secretary of the association, and the original records were destroyed in the fire which consumed his home in 1913.

At the organization meeting $25,000 was decided on as the capitalization, and the lot upon which the building is being reared was purchased in 1908.

Shortly after its organization the Improved Order of Redmen, Fraternal Order of Eagles, United Ancient Order of Druids and Woodmen of the World became interested in the project, but after payment for the lot many difficulties were encountered by the young association, and no further progress was made on securing capital for the building.

New Officers Elected

In 1916 the matter was again brought up for consideration, and in March of that year W. J. Smith, City Clerk, combined with some of the members of the old board and launched a campaign for funds.

Success finally crowned their efforts, substantial subscriptions were secured and financial arrangements completed which permitted the association to go on with the work.

The building now being constructed, including the furnishings, will cost in excess of $25,000. It is proposed to have the structure ready for dedication to fraternalism on July 4th.

The building will be a lasting monument to those of the association who have so persistently held faith in its ultimate success.

The present officers of the organization are: W. J. Smith, president; Dr. J. C. McGovern, vice-president; Harry Edwards, secretary; Al. Kauffmann, treasurer; Geo. A. Kiessling, S. Nieri, H. Minucciani, J. Reardon and Henry Veit.

SWITCHING CASE TO BE HEARD IN S. F. JAN. 18

STATE COMMISSION REFUSES TO GRANT FURTHER POSTPONEMENT TO SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

The application made by the transportation company for a further postponement of the case of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce versus the Southern Pacific Company was denied by the Railroad Commission on Thursday, and the case will come up for hearing on Friday, January 18th, at 10 a. m., in the rooms of the Railroad Commission, Commercial building, San Francisco.

The decision of the State Railroad Commission in this case will have a tremendous effect on the future prosperity of this city, as the present rates are undoubtedly a handicap to the locating of heavy manufacturing here.

The Industrial Executive Committee of Civic Associations recently circulated a report of harbor conditions and switching rates which evidences the fact that South San Francisco factories are carrying a heavy burden because of the discriminatory rates maintained against this city as compared to the east side of the bay.

Rates Are Important

The report further states that switching limits and the charges for switching therein are among the most important parts of the foundation of a port—which foundation must be equally as strong as that of other ports. If the switching limits are less in area the foundation is weak, and if the switching charges are again increased it is weakened in ratio.

The following organizations are members of the Industrial Executive Committee of Civic Associations:

The Downtown Association, Mission Promotion Association, San Francisco Real Estate Board, Home Industry League, Civic League of Improvement Clubs, North Central Improvement Association, Manufacturers' Association of South San Francisco, South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

INCOME TAX

The Enterprise has secured from the Income Tax Department of the United States Department of Internal Revenue a questionnaire covering all phases of the war tax, both for individual incomes and corporations.
The department further advises that no blanks of any kind for the reporting of income taxes can be expected before January 15th.
Telephonic requests or personal requests at the Enterprise office for information on the tax will be cheerfully answered.
Following are the most important phases of exemption:
Exemption allowed a single person, $1,000.
Exemption allowed married persons living together or the head of a family (though unmarried), $2,000, plus $200 for each dependent child under 18 years of age.
Thus, heads of families or married persons with three dependent minor children would be entitled to $2,600 exemption, and the excess over this amount would be taxable.
Returns are due to be filed not later than March 1, 1918.

The Chamber of Commerce will welcome more members.

STUBBORN FIRE IN LODGING HOUSE

LOCAL FIRE DEPARTMENT FIGHTS FIERCE FIRE IN OLD BADEN HOTEL.

A fierce fire, which threatened to destroy the old Baden Hotel, at Linden avenue, between Grand and Miller avenues, broke out last Friday morning at 2 o'clock.

Wright, of the Schaw-Batcher Company, with some of his men, first noticed the blaze and telephoned an alarm to the local fire department, which responded in quick time. The workmen of the Schaw-Batcher Company volunteered and assisted in fighting the fire.

The blaze was a most stubborn one, and due to the extreme dryness of the interior of the building had gained considerable headway by the time the fire department had its first stream of water pouring on the flames.

The house was used as a lodging for Italians, and when they were aroused the twelve inmates poured into the streets. One of them, panic-stricken, leaped from the second-

HOUSES IN DEMAND

Some indication of the great demand for residences here can be gleaned from the readiness with which all available dwelling places are snapped up.

The excavation for the foundation of the three family houses which are being constructed by Kauffmann on Grand avenue were not completed before the houses were spoken for and rental arrangements made to be effective immediately upon their completion.

More than 25 applications for rentals have already been received by the owner, and five or six people daily are still making application.

The same condition prevailed at the time of the building of the new Knott apartments.

story window, fortunately escaping with only a sprained wrist.

This is the first big blaze which has been fought by the local fire department under the direction of Fire Chief Emerick, and the volunteer department did excellent work in getting the flames under control.

The real cause of the fire is not known, but has been attributed to an overheated stove or defective wiring.

EXPLOSION AT MILL

RECORD-BREAKING REPAIRS FOLLOW BLOWING OUT OF CYLINDER HEAD AT STEEL PLANT.

Tuesday night at 8 o'clock the cylinder head of a large engine which operates the 22-inch mill at the Pacific Coast Steel Company blew out, and the noise of the explosion was heard for several miles.

No one was injured in the accident, but the major part of the big plant was shut down as a result of the accident, only the smaller mills continuing in operation.

Record-breaking repairs followed the accident. N. A. Becker, mill manager, personally supervised the work of clearing away the wreckage.

As news of the explosion spread Frank Logan, a moulder at the Coast Foundry Company, telephoned Becker and volunteered to be of what service he could. Arrangements were at once made to get out a crew of foundrymen and before ten o'clock Logan had made ready for the casting of the cylinder head. The casting was finished at 3:30 Wednesday morning, and by 11 o'clock Wednesday night, in time for the regular night shift of workmen, the finished cylinder head was in place and the plant resumed operation.

MUNICIPAL PLANT FOR SAN BRUNO

SAN BRUNO TRUSTEES TAKE
STRAW VOTE ON WATER PROP-OSITION.

Realizing the need of better water service, the Board of Trustees of San Bruno recently took a postcard vote to ascertain the opinion of the people on three different propositions suggested:

1. Entire new municipal system.
2. Municipal system utilizing parts of existing systems.
3. Granting franchise for private system.

The vote showed a very large majority for the entirely new municipal plant, and accordingly an election is called for January 19th, submitting the proposition of bonding the city $140,000 for cost of construction.

At a mass meeting held January 5th a committee of twenty citizens was appointed to confer with Engineer Kneese regarding physical features of the proposed work and to report or recommend to the Board of Trustees. This committee met at the City Hall January 9th and endorsed the engineer's project providing for new mains of cast-iron throughout.

The system contemplated, while not extending to all outlying and unimproved sections, will amply serve all requirements for a good number of years and permit of extensions to all sections without any change in the original work.

HUNKA TIN.

The following parody on Rudyard Kipling's famous poem, "Gunga Din," was written by an ambulance driver on the field of action:

You may talk about your virtues,
When you're sitting 'round your quarters,
But when it comes to getting blessed in,
Take a little tip from me,
Let those heavy motors be.
Pin your faith on Henry F.'s old
Hunka Tin.
Give her essence and l'eau,
Crank her up and let her go—
Your back firin', spark-plug foul'in',
Hunka Tin.

The paint is not so good,
And no doubt you'll find the hood
Will rattle like a boiler shop on route;
The cooler's sure to boil,
And perhaps she's leakin' oil;
Then oftentimes the horn declines to toot.
But when the night is black,
And there's blessed in the back,
And they hardly give you time to take a smoke,
It's mighty good to feel,
When you're sitting at the wheel,
She'll be running when the bigger cars are broke.

After all the wars are past,
And we're taken home at last,
To our reward of which the preacher sings:
When these ukulele sharps
Will be strumming golden harps,
And the aviators all have reg'lar
wings;
When the Kaiser is in Hell,
With the furnace drawing well,
Paying for his million different kinds of sin—
If they're running short of coal,
Show me how to reach the hole
And I'll cast a few loads down with Hunka Tin.

Yes—Tin, Tin, Tin,
You exasperating puzzle, Hunka Tin!
I've abused you, and I've flayed you,
But, by Henry Ford who made you,
You are better than a Packard,
Hunka Tin!

Christmas mail this year was 25 per cent heavier than ever before, according to the Postoffice Department. The congestion was less, however, because the packages were mailed earlier than in former years.

In the Screen World

GERALDINE FARRAR

Geraldine Farrar was born in Melrose, Mass., a suburb of Boston. Her parents were both of musical tastes, although neither made professional use of their talents, her father being a professional baseball player. From early childhood her voice gave promise of greatness and she was the star attraction at many a local entertainment.

Indeed, she scored a genuine hit when she was twelve years old, and her father was so deeply impressed that he decided to give her a musical education, although he did not look with favor upon professional stage life for women. But there is an old saying that genius is its own best justification, and even though he had no professional ambitions for his child, Miss Farrar's father did not feel that he was justified in preventing her from the career that destiny seemed to have selected for her.

After some study in Boston Miss Farrar went to New York, working under Emma Thursby; later she continued her work in Washington, D. C. It was in Washington that she first came to public notice. At about the time of Dewey's victory at Manila Bay she was presented to President and Mrs. McKinley, for whom she sang at the White House. Her sweet, girlish personality and marvelous voice won her an immediate place in their favor.

Miss Farrar was finally permitted to try her voice before Melba and Mr. Ellis of the Walter Damrosch Opera Company. Melba was most enthusiastic in her praise of the young singer, and Mr. Ellis offered her $20,000 for four years of work, during which time she would have the opportunity to study with Melba. But Miss Farrar's father insisted upon a refusal of the offer and also of a proposition of $8,000 a year from Grau.

She then went to Europe and there, in addition to further developing her voice and musical knowledge, showed a rare talent for acquiring foreign languages, several of which she sings and speaks like a native. Ultimately, at the age of just nineteen, she made her debut at the Royal Opera in Berlin. She was at once put on a three years' contract and soon became an acknowledged favorite. She further earned the distinction of being the youngest singer ever entrusted with the role of Marguerite in "Faust" and being the only artist who ever succeeded in singing at the Berlin Opera Italian operas in the Italian language.

When it became known that the great Farrar had consented to appear before the camera millions of people all over the country who had never had an opportunity of seeing the star rejoiced and flocked to see her first production, which was "Carmen," one of her most popular operas. This was such a success that it was followed by others, "Temptation" and "Maria Rosa."

The latter is known as "the picture that made Farrar a bride," for it was the beginning of a romance which attracted the attention of the entire world. Lou Tellegen, following his extraordinary success as an actor in Madame Sarah Bernhardt's company, had decided to learn the English language, and his first production in that tongue was a Spanish drama, entitled "Maria Rosa."

When Mr. Tellegen went to the Lasky studios for the filming of his great pictures, "The Explorer" and "The Unknown," he learned that Miss Farrar was to appear in the photoplay version of "Maria Rosa," and he volunteered his services in assisting her and the other artists. Thus the friendship that started in the cool of the California evenings over the script of "Maria Rosa" ended in an elaborate wedding in New York a year later.

Miss Farrar has also appeared in the celebrated screen version of "Joan the Woman," in which she scored the greatest triumph of any actress ever appearing on the screen, a triumph only equalled by her appearance in "The Woman God Forgot" and "The Devil Stone."

RED MEN ELECT

(By B. Baggenstos)

Tippecanoe Tribe No. 111 installed its officers for the ensuing term Thursday evening, January 3d, 1918. Brother Erving of Redwood City, the great district deputy past sachem, was the officiating officer. The following officers were installed in the most fitting manner by Brother Erving, assisted by Past Sachems M. Hyland and Henry Hyland: Sachem, B. Baggenstos; senior sagamore, J. Riordan; junior sagamore, Charles Dovin; prophet, J. Foley, and trustee, A. Koffa. After the regular order of business the arrangement committee announced that corn and venison was awaiting all. The evening was well spent and one to be remembered by all.

STEEL WORKERS
INSTALL OFFICERS

SAN MATEO COUNTY'S STRONGEST LABOR ORGANIZATION HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION.

(By W. W. Stanley.)

The Panama-Pacific Exposition Lodge, A. A. of I. S. and T. W. of N. A., No. 5, in South San Francisco, held their annual installation of officers January 5th for the year 1918. The following officers were installed with the impressive ceremonies of that organization:

J. B. Tatum, president; Ben Kellum, vice-president; L. G. Hardy, recording secretary; J. E. Shaw, treasurer; H. J. Yager, financial secretary; W. W. Stanley, journal agent; Thomas Smith, guide; C. Blank, inside guard; Wm. Stinchcomb, outside guard; John Smith, trustee; E. Ferrell and J. C. Becker, delegates to the San Francisco Labor Council.

The ceremonies were conducted by Chas. Myers, corresponding representative. After the newly obligated officers had taken their seats and entered upon their respective duties Chas. Carlson, retiring president, and Steve Nylan, retiring vice-president, made some very appropriate remarks, which were loudly applauded by all present.

The Steel Workers' Union is the strongest organization of its kind in San Mateo County. The local lodge has at the present time over 300 members and is steadily growing.

It is hoped that the newly installed officers will be a credit to the lodge and the cause which it represents, and to the community in general.

Retiring President Carlson has the record for attendance. Since his installation in January, 1917, he has never been absent from a meeting. The new officers and all members should try to follow his example.

REV. MILLER WRITES

Mrs. R. L. Fontaine is in receipt of a letter from the Rev. W. T. Miller, former pastor of the Methodist Church, who is now at Etna Mills.

Mrs. Fontaine sent the clergyman a Christmas card which brought forth a most interesting acknowledgment.

Rev. Miller, describing his pastorate at Etna Mills, where he is filling the pulpit of both the Methodist and Congregational churches, refers amusingly to the gifts he received on Christmas Eve. "Candy, popcorn, catsup, puddings, maple syrups, cheese, bread, apples, eggs, peas, corn, pickles, plums, pears, peaches, jelly, beans, sardines and breakfast foods" are only a few of the items enumerated by Rev. Miller. The clergyman seems to be delighted with his new call.

Buy Your War Stamps

The plan of the Government to raise funds through the sale of war savings certificate stamps is one of the most commendable plans yet instituted. The sale of liberty bonds was and is necessarily circumscribed, because these bonds could not be issued in small denominations sufficient to include the small savings of the millions who handle only small means. With the savings stamps, however, all can have a hand in financing their Government. Millions who felt themselves unable to spare the amount of a bond can contribute through this channel. And the fact that every penny invested in these stamps is so much saved and invested at a profit should inspire in the American people a spirit of thrift and saving that has heretofore been totally foreign to our natures. The response should be universal, and South San Francisco, because of the prosperity of its small army of wage earners, should be well to the front when the records of sales are compiled. We repeat: Lick a war stamp and help lick the Kaiser.

Labor for Farms

The problem of labor for our farms is looming up as the one great question, and in many localities is becoming really serious. Even before we were in war it was a matter of concern. Now the matter can no longer be lightly set aside. There is no doubt that unless steps are taken, before the entire war draft is run out, to recruit the ranks of farm labor it will be a physical impossibility for our farms to meet the demands that will be made upon them another season. Many localities report that even now the scarcity of farm labor is seriously crippling operations, and when the draft is completed the situation will be even more serious. It is hoped that the amended regulations will tend to relieve the situation. From the present outlook, it would seem the part of wisdom that the draft apply to farm labor equally with the army. It would be hard to tell which is the most important just at this time. Certain it is that without the farmer our armies will be impotent.

If, as Col. Lewis alleges, the ordnance equipment of Pershing's army is "an outrage and a disgrace," somebody should be made to walk the plank. If an atom of personal feeling has been permitted to interfere with the protection of these men, the guilty parties should feel the avenging power of an outraged people. "Personal feelings" can have no place in the war program, and the party encumbered with them should be relegated to the hindmost seat in private life, if not to some place more secluded still.

If an object is needed to show in what light Germany regards neutral nations, and to verify her estimate of a treaty as a "scrap of paper," the fate of Norway is ample for the purpose. That nation, although adhering scrupulously to a policy of neutrality, has lost hundreds of ships by German submarines and mines, and not less than 5,000 lives with them. No one of the allied countries' navies have suffered to the extent that Norwegian shipping has suffered.

A prominent editor of the country is out with a long editorial purporting to be an analysis of the female nature. That editor is either a fraud or the most foolhardy man alive. We contend that the female nature can't be analyzed. But if it can, and this editor has succeeded, then he will be a hunted man the balance of his days for telling on the woman.

Son-in-Law Nicholas Longworth says of the proposition to tax congressional salaries: "The force that compels us to commit this atrocity is fear for our own political skins." Yes, and the political skin that harbors a nature capable of characterizing the proposed tax as an "atrocity" should be promptly removed and hung on the fence to dry.

If Mary's little lamb continues to grow in favor and financial value, it is destined to seriously interfere with the activities of the mongrel cur. The country is already looking askance at the latter.

Chicago has been looted of $2,000,000 during the past year by robbers. The reason the figures are so low is that the estimate doesn't include the activities of the food profiteers.

The report that the government will require all available supplies of castor oil, will be received with delight by the youngster who has eaten too much supper.

While the tangle continues in the affairs of the fuel administration we have always the consolation of knowing that spring is on the way and must come sooner or later.

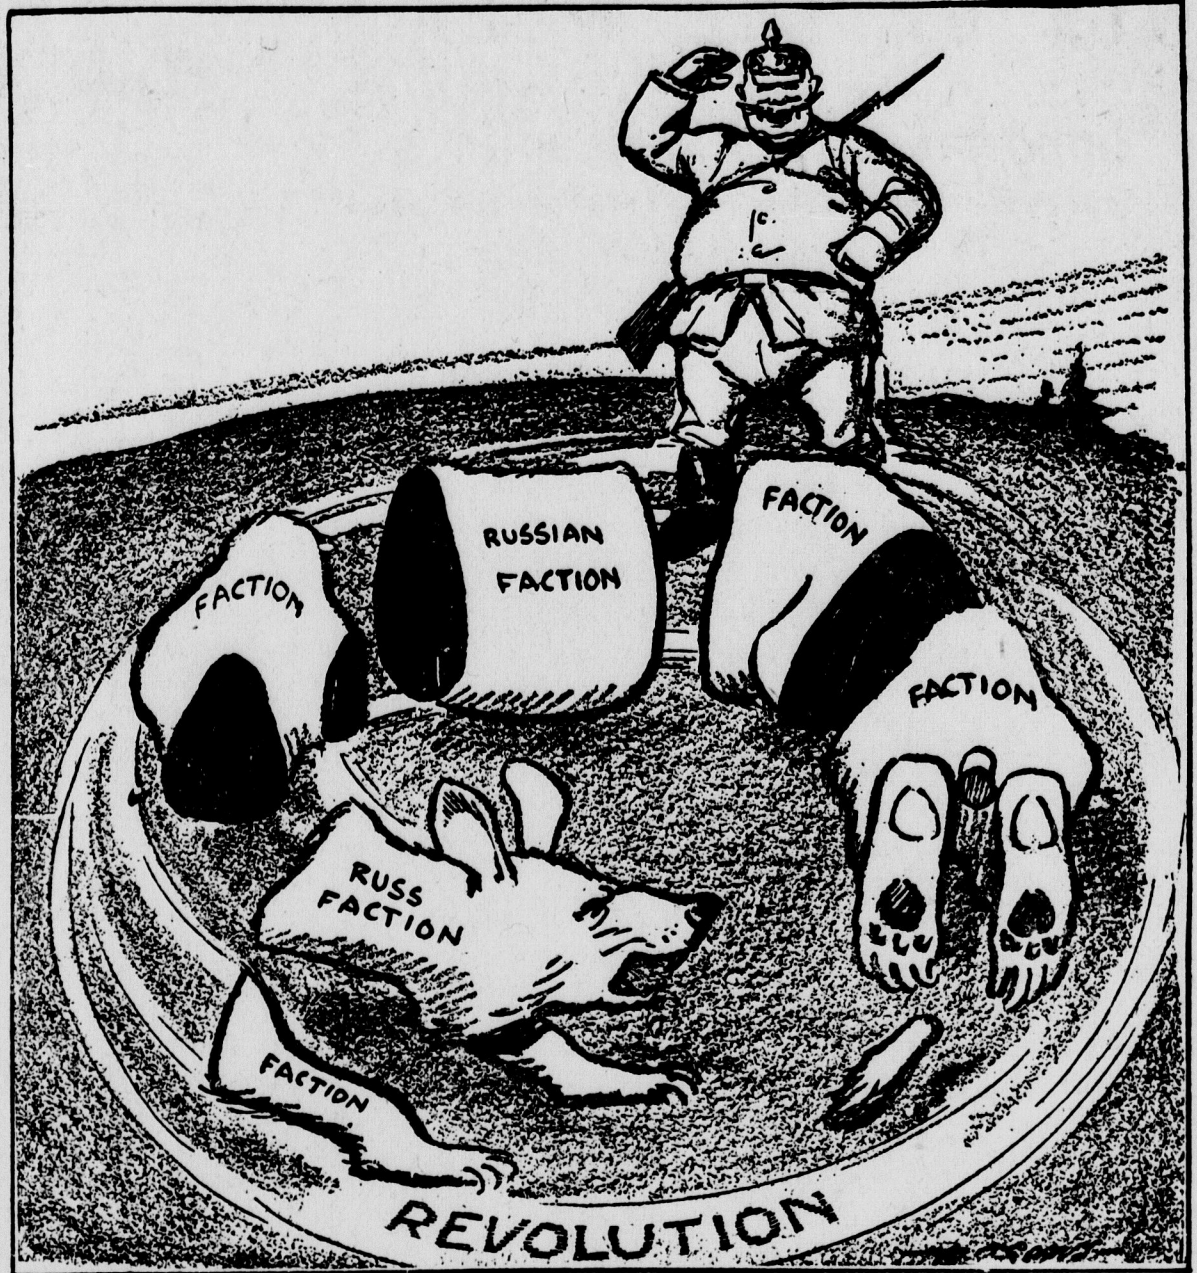

Reports of Boston's recent municipal election sound as though the scene were laid in the tenderloin of New York or in Dead Man's Gulch, Col. Boston must surely have imported a new brand of culture; or is it "kultur"?

New York papers tell of an Italian who ate twenty eggs at one meal. That fellow is not only an alien enemy, but should be vigorously prosecuted for hoarding food supplies.

The difference between the Russian and German views of peace was that while Russia desired peace with Germany the latter wanted peaceful possession of Russia. Such a little difference to mar the harmony!

THE SEPARATE PIECES

—Evans in Baltimore American.

The Ill-Fated Cruise Of the Scow "Matilda"

This is the story of the ill-fated cruise of the scow "Matilda," pursued by the hoodoo number 13, her designated numeral in the fleet.

With cheery hearts and a "Heigh-ho" or whatever it is the hardy mariners who navigate the bay waters in a scow say when the anchor is weighed, and all steam up, the "Matilda" commenced what promised to be an uneventful voyage from the shores of San Francisco, down the peaceful waters of the bay, to South San Francisco, laden with hay. Then all the machinations of fate and man conspired against the cruise; careless navigation landed "Matilda" on the mud flats, with dire results to her cargo of alfalfa, which suffered much from the elements. So much, in fact, that when the scow with its cargo, destined to the Western Meat Company, finally arrived, the alert Tom Allen, after looking over what had already been unloaded, refused to accept delivery, claiming that the hay was too badly damaged.

The Captain Sets Forth.

Heavy heartedly the crew abandoned their task, reboarded the craft, and awaited further orders. Their swash-buckling captain, Henry by name, decided that he and his shipmates were entitled to their pay, whether or not, and gallantly set forth to brave the storm of indignation which he knew would be coming from the "Matilda's" owners. By persuasion he finally succeeded in collecting the earned increment of himself and his jolly mariners, but the wiles of San Francisco's water front were too alluring and he succumbed to a revel in booze, neatly disposing of not only his own earnings and that of the crew, but of himself as well, for he has left for parts unknown. Meanwhile the "Matilda" continued to swing lazily with the tides.

Then arose a dire and painful situation. The crew ran out of provisions, and hungry, thirsty and broke, sought a way out of the difficulty. Happy thought! Send the cook to San Francisco for succor in the way of food, provisions, drink and money, if possible. Right bravely went the cook, but alas, for the frailty of human nature, he followed too literally in the footsteps of the captain, fell by the wayside and failed to return from the bold, bad city by the bay.

Desperate, the crew made a deal with the Veranda Hotel, and feeling that their spirits needed reviving swapped an Ingersoll watch for its bar value in booze. Thus strengthened, they decided to go to headquarters and in a body abandoned "Matilda" to the fates of wind and wave, leaving for San Francisco.

But the cat! Faithful, patient tabby had been left aboard, and prowling about the hold for something in the way of animal sustenance foolishly lapped up enough whisky so that either by accident or with suicidal intent at the desertion of her comrades, sought a watery grave. In any event, tabby did a Jonah act over the side and was no more seen alive by the eyes of mortal man.

But the "Matilda" has finally left our shores. She has returned to San Francisco and lies, or did lie, with her load of rejected hay at the foot of a Third-street dock.

And so ended the voyage of the "Matilda No. 13" from San Francisco to South San Francisco, laden with hay, destined to the Western Meat Company.

We are confidently assured that Government officials are hot on the trail of the food barons. They're running too darned fast. They get over-heated and have to stop and rest, when the wily varmints get a good lead again. Better take it slow and sure, and LAND them.

One thing this war has done for us: it has convinced many Democrats that Republicans were human beings, and Republicans have been forced to admit that Democrats might even be Christians.

The profiteers are after the scalp of Secretary Daniels because he distinguishes between "doing a bit" and "taking a bite." Longer life to you, Josephus.

The senator from Wisconsin now finds himself in such a hopeless minority in Washington that "as lonesome as La Follette" has become a popular saying.

"Madeline" wishes to know the admissible depth to which to cut the V-shaped waist. Really, sister, we know of no fixed limit unless it be the waistband.

We wouldn't mind paying two prices for everything we buy if we didn't have a sneaking notion that the second price is graft.

RED CROSS OR HUN

Cinderella, a social reporter, so aptly sums up the Red Cross situation in a recent edition of the Chicago Tribune that it is clipped and here reprinted for its value:

(By Cinderella)

Here's wishing everybody "Onward and upward" for the New Year. And may we all take a great brace these crisp January days and start in with our war work again.

The doctrine of staying at home and knitting pink sweaters for our second cousins is just the one our enemy likes best, and there are hundreds of thousands of hospital garments to be made for use in 1918, and millions of gauze dressings, and many large, airy Red Cross work-rooms in all parts of town to make them in. Joining the Red Cross is one thing and working for the Red Cross is another; the latter is Government work and we are really helping the Huns when we don't do it.

When you see a Red Cross work-room, go in and learn to do it. It's your right as a loyal citizen and it helps our country. Mrs. Heaton Owsley in her North Michigan avenue unit has many men workers, who drop in evenings and do beautifully, and on Tuesdays sixty working girls are busy all day. Do everything we can do for the war and don't wait—unless we believe in the doctrine of unpreparedness. Other important things will be coming along. Munitions factories, for example. Some of the Liberty Loan money's to be expended right here in our balliwick, and lots of women I know can have their wish—making high explosives and polishing shells and doing really dangerous war work.

DELPHIANS MEET

Local Delphian Society members met at the Martin home on Monday last for their regular program of reading.

Mrs. W. J. Martin, the hostess, spread a most enjoyable luncheon; the society members presented Mrs. G. L. Maynard, their president, with a merchandise order. The luncheon and presentation were followed by the reading of medieval stories.

FALL UNIFORM.

All summer we have seen the variations of the khaki service uniform. Here we have its counterpart for cold weather—tweed trousers, which go with a leather coat, flannel lined. Puttees, wristlets and Angora cap and tip-top carry out the idea of smartness which is also cozy.

Tell your neighbor about the Chamber of Commerce.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS TOLD IN BRIEF

While working an emery wheel at the Enterprise Foundry E. Fanni sustained a bad cut in his right forearm.

M. Fioritto, a Western Meat Company workman, is suffering from a badly bruised foot, which was caused by the wheel of a hand truck passing over it.

C. Fregosi, while cutting meat at the plant of the Western Meat Company, let his knife slip and is suffering from a slash in his right hand as a result.

D. Stearns was confined to his bed this week with a bad cold, but has recovered.

N. A. Becker has a new Studebaker chummy coupe.

Mrs. Peter Lind was in South San Francisco on Tuesday, and while here spent a short time with her children.

Mrs. Ethel Wilmoth (nee Ethel Ferner), formerly of this city, was visiting friends here Thursday.

Gean O'Jeda, who has been in the Hahnemann Hospital, returned to town Monday, very much improved. He left Thursday for Hollister to visit his folks.

Mr. Walter Downing, a former resident of this city, was visiting friends here Wednesday and Thursday.

Harold May of this city, now training at Camp Lewis, American Lake, has been transferred to the Base Hospital.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

The permanent organization of a Junior Red Cross was given considerable impetus in South San Francisco on Thursday, when 25-cent membership subscriptions were solicited from each school child from the first to the eighth grade. The work of organization is under the direct supervision of Prof. Britton, and excellent results have already been obtained.

GIRLS' CLUB DANCE.

The Girls' Club, of All Souls Church, will give a dance in Metropolitan Hall on Saturday evening, January 19th.

CHURCH SERVICES.

At the regular services of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday, January 13th, the pastor will preach on the following subjects:

11 a. m.—"A Conference to Be Avoided."

7:45 p. m.—"The Bravery of Jesus Christ."

The Young People's Society will meet at 6:45 p. m. Subject, "The Wider Life." Leader, Miss Silva Doak. You are cordially invited to attend these services.

LADIES' AID COMMITTEE.

Mrs. Maitland Still, Mrs. T. C. Doak and Mrs. Boyer have been appointed as the committee to serve on the Ladies' Aid food sale at Carmody's store, Saturday, February 2d.

CHAS. GUIDI ILL.

Chas. Guidi, proprietor of the Hub, has an attack of pneumonia following a heavy cold. Considerable concern has been felt by his family, but Dr. Flanagan, the attending physician, reports him much improved. Guidi has been confined to his bed more than a week.

The KITCHEN CABINET

The day is most fair, the cheery wind
Haloos behind the hill.
Where bends the wood as seemeth good,
And the sappling to his will!

FRUIT FOR THE TABLE.

If there is any one thing that appeals to the eye and thus affords pleasure at the table, it is a well-arranged, well-laid, attractively set table. The centerpiece is the first thing that the eye lights upon, so it should be just as attractive as possible. The professional knows that he must appeal to the eye in order to sell his wares. It should be just as important that the home caterers have the same methods of coaxing an often jaded appetite. This does not mean that great expense is necessary, for the simplest, least expensive arrangement may be beautiful.

A very pretty centerpiece was used the other day, which almost anyone could repeat with small cost. An oblong wicker tray with a pretty feathery fern in a pot dressed with green paper was placed in the center of the tray, around it were arranged bunches of grapes, a few red apples and an orange or two for color.

Fresh fruit, without which breakfast is an incomplete meal, is nine times out of ten served in the same manner day after day.

If bananas are to be served for the meal, buy them attached to the original stem, then arrange a background of green, either of fern or a few leaves or even crumpled green paper and the transformation will surprise and delight the eye, making a tame banana seem something out of the ordinary. The old-fashioned epergne is a treasure any woman would covet, for it lends itself to so many attractive arrangements of fruit, leaves or flowers. The old-fashioned standard silver cake basket is another artistic treasure. A birch bark boat, or hollow log (which may be bought at a florist's) filled with golden oranges, with the duller tone of a few bananas and a bit of green for the color setting is a most charming centerpiece. The fruit itself served in this unusual way takes on a new flavor.

There is such a wilderness of baskets to choose from for table baskets that almost any color or design may be found. A heap of white grapes surrounded with bright red polished apples, a most commonplace dish of fruit, is changed by its treatment into a study in colors.

EDNA BRONER WINS

SILVER SET OFFERED IN CARMODY CONTEST BRINGS OUT BIG VOTE.

The offer of a handsome set of flat table silver developed much strength among the candidates in the Carmody piano contest. Edna Broner repeated her conquest of last week, and by polling 57,895 votes carried off the prize.

Irene Doyle was a contender, being only 7,000 votes behind the leader, while Mary Fischer jumped from an inconspicuous place by polling 42,960 ballots.

The race now seems to be on in earnest, the candidates have gotten into the swing of the contest, and it is to be expected that there will be a constant shifting of positions in the war of ballots.

More than 300,000 votes were cast last week for the silver set, and a beautiful La Tosca pearl necklace is the offering for next week's prize.

This will go to the candidate who has cast the largest number of ballots for the week ending Thursday evening, January 17.

THE HONOR ROLL

 In answer to their country's call, nearly one hundred and twenty-five men from South San Francisco have laid aside their everyday duties to repel the menace of autocracy. The opportunity to pay "the last full measure of devotion that the nation may live" has been as cheerfully accepted by them as it will be gallantly carried through. United, devoted and determined America, pledging her vast resources, has declared for victory and no body of men ever set forth in a more glorious cause.
 The Enterprise has prepared, preliminary to the making of a South San Francisco Service Flag, a list of the local men in the service of the nation. No name should be omitted. A number have been added since the list was first published, but the name of every man from this city in the uniform of his country should be included. Corrections or additions will be gratefully received at the office of the Enterprise.

F. O. E. INSTALLATION

LOCAL LODGE OF EAGLES ELECTS OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR.

(By Harry Edwards.)

South City Aerie, No. 1473, Fraternal Order of Eagles, installed the following officers for the ensuing term Tuesday evening last: Junior past president, J. W. Pitt; worthy president, Dr. J. C. McGovern; worthy vice-president, J. Anderson; worthy chaplain, F. Angelino; worthy secretary, Dan Hyland; worthy treasurer, Harry Cavassa; worthy inside guard, F. Josephis; worthy outside guard, C. McCormick; worthy physician, Dr. Leo Flanagan; worthy trustees—Frank Burch, D. Palaney, Geo. E. Kiessling; installing officers—Harry Edwards and John Fischer.

Ring Presented Danerle.

On behalf of the officers and members of the aerie, Past President Harry Edwards made the presentation speech, and at its conclusion handed to the senior past president, E. Danerle, a diamond-studded emblematic ring, in recognition of his services to the aerie, to which the recipient feelingly responded. Then followed the banquet, at which the newly installed officers made speeches, declaring fidelity to the principles of the order, liberty, truth, justice and equality.

The military-service flag of the Lighthouse Service, Department of Commerce, contains 1,206 stars, one for each officer and employee of the Lighthouse Service now serving in the military forces of the United States.

TOUCHING FAREWELL OF REV. MR. KELLEY

YOUNG CLERGYMAN'S LAST SERMON TO CONGREGATION HE LOVED IS AFFECTING.

Grace Episcopal Church was well filled last Sunday evening when Rev. Leslie C. Kelley, now serving as chaplain in the U. S. Army, preached his farewell sermon to South San Franciscans. "Christ in Peace" was the subject.

By a peculiar coincidence this sermon concluded a series started previous to his enlistment, "Christ in War" being the one delivered just before his appointment as chaplain.

The young clergyman referred feelingly to his pleasurable associations in this city, and in that same broad spirit which exemplified his service to the community at large while pastor of Grace Episcopal Church declared that "The collar of his chaplain's uniform would not carry the initials of Grace Church or the Episcopal denomination, but rather the all-embracing name of South San Francisco."

At the conclusion of the sermon the congregation rose as the organ broke out into the strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner." The scene was a touching one for the pastor who had said his last farewells and delivered his final benediction to his congregation. Tears sprang to the eyes of many of those in the assemblage, for there were a number present whose boys are now serving the colors.

Rev. Kelley left California with his company on Wednesday last.

GOOD BOXING CARD

The South City Athletic Club will hold its next boxing show Thursday evening, January 17, 1918. Promoter Jess Monize has signed George Shade and Dago Jimmie Lewis for the main event. George Shade has proved to the fans that he tries hard all the time and will try for a knockout in his clash with Lewis. Lewis has trained hard for Shade and says that a knockout is not in the card.

In the special event Al Doyle will tangle with Frankie Tabor, who fought a draw with young Joe Gans. Al Doyle has been going strong lately and is well liked by the fans. This event should be a rattling good go, as Promoter Jess Monize has promised to give the winner the main event at the next show.

Al Costa, champion feather-weight of San Mateo County, will meet again with Charlie Jones. Jones fights from the tap of the gong, but Al Costa is among the fastest of the 110-pounders.

Three other bouts will follow—Eddie Claffen vs. Johnny Coughlen, Willie Tabor vs. Al Smith of Daly City, Nick Castiglio vs. Young Willie Ritchie.

Ladies will be admitted.

Christmas gifts for the expeditionary forces aggregated 650 tons. Hundreds of thousands of pounds of turkeys, purchased in eastern markets and refrigerated on the ships, together with great quantities of cranberries, sweet potatoes, and mince meat, went to the forces overseas. In the United States every camp was supplied with fresh turkey and the usual Christmas accessories.

"The Crimson Dove" to Be Bill at Royal Theatre Tuesday Evening

In "The Crimson Dove," the newest World-Picture Brady-Made which comes to the Royal Theatre on Tuesday, January 15th, Carlyle Blackwell is seen in the role of a fighting parson who wins out in a desperate game waged in a mountain fastness where the hand of man is set against him. Playing opposite Mr. Blackwell is that popular and beautiful star, June Elvidge, who is seen first as a famous actress and second as an energetic and successful school teacher. Dion Titheradge is also seen in the cast, and he has a very interesting and unusual part. The story tells of the infatuation for a woman of the theatre of a young man. The young man is repulsed by the woman and after being thrown out of his home commits suicide in desperation. Later the young man's minister meets the woman, who has resumed her real name. The minister does not know that the woman is the one for whom his young parishioner had such an insane infatuation, and in time the minister and the woman come to love each other. When the other parishioners discover this, there is consternation and a determined and successful effort is made to oust the young clergyman. He secures a charge in the mountains, where he makes good, and the young woman becomes a school teacher, and she also makes good. Finally they are united under the most strange and startling circumstances. Altogether this is an extraordinary drama—extraordinary in its story, extraordinary in its treatment, extraordinary in the lavishness with which it is staged and in its ability to interest and entertain. You will make no mistake in seeing "The Crimson Dove," the latest World-Picture Brady-Made.

A CAPTAIN AT 21

NEPHEW OF J. H. DAVIDSON IS YOUNGEST OFFICER OF EQUAL RANK IN SERVICE OF UNCLE SAM.

Lester Zimmerman, nephew of J. H. Davidson, superintendent of the Prest-O-Lite Company here, has the honor of being the youngest captain in the American army.

Young Zimmermann, whose home is in Redmon, Ill., is not yet 21 years old, but has just been jumped in rank from corporal of Company G, 35th U. S. Infantry, now stationed at Nogales, Arizona, to a captaincy in the Signal Corps, aero section of the army. The appointment occasioned his departure from Nogales to a point whose location is censored.

Mrs. E. Milburn, the young officer's mother, writes an interesting and illuminating letter relative to the path the young fellow trod to his brevetship. Mrs. Milburn says:

"My son, not yet 21 years old (he 21 February 1, 1918), is Uncle Sam's 'kid' captain, and I the proudest mother in the whole United States of America. Aside from that, I have another reason for making this public. There is a prevailing impression that a private has no chance to rise to his own merits. An old and well known army man recently made this statement: 'A private soldier has about as much chance of attaining a commission as a German pack peddler has of becoming kaiser.' I have often heard this expression: 'A private can't get anywhere in the army without a 'pull.' Well, my boy has certainly 'got somewhere' in the army, but I don't deny he had a 'pull.' It's there on his service record, put there by those who have been his superiors through three years of faithful border service. 'Character, excellent.' That's the kind of a 'pull' that counts with Uncle Sam. This boy was 18 at the time of his enlistment; a laborer, limited schooling, absolutely no financial aid of any kind, but stepped from first 'non-com' promo-

P. G. & E. CO. HAS FINE ASSOCIATION

SIXTEEN HUNDRED MEMBERS BANDED TOGETHER FOR MUTUAL BENEFIT.

The Pacific Service Employees' Association, which now contains some sixteen hundred members, is an organization for all the employees of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in San Francisco and all the outlying districts in which this company operates, and is rapidly growing and taking definite form.

All the activities of the employees, of any nature whatsoever, are taken up through the association. These include athletics of all kinds, for which tournaments, etc., are arranged between different districts; educational matters, entertainments, etc., and, what is of greatest interest now, the present whereabouts and doings of all men who have left the service of the company to enlist in the service of the United States. The matter of permanent headquarters is now being taken up and the members of the association hope soon to have a "home."

Two meetings are held each month—one at Oakland and one at San Francisco—at which matters relating to the company and the employees are brought up and discussed so that all members may keep informed of the company's activities. Papers concerning the work being performed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company are read at these meetings and prove to be of great educational value. There is always plenty of entertainment provided at the meetings, also, as the association boasts of some very clever members, a large chorus, and a good orchestra.

tion to a commission. The fact doesn't need any comment."

Davidson states that the boy is "certainly making good for the family." Davidson served as a private for five years in Troop G, 4th U. S. Cavalry.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By Byrne McSweeney.)

School reopened last Monday, the seventh.

At the regular meeting of the student body a resolution was passed authorizing the giving of a dance for the benefit of the student body. Committees were appointed, although no definite date was set for holding the affair.

Committees were also appointed to determine upon the next play to be given under the auspices of the High School.

Athletics among the boys was resumed this week.

The floor of the gymnasium is being reboarded.

A basketball game has been arranged between the Los Altos High School and South San Francisco. The game will be played on the local court Saturday, January 12th, at 10 a. m.

Angelo Scampini has returned to school, having fully recovered from his recent accident. Tom Becker is absent, as a result of a recent operation.

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION No. 32.

A Resolution of Intention of the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco Declaring Its Intention to Improve a Portion of San Bruno Road and Butler Road.

Whereas, public interest and convenience require that the work and improvement hereinafter described should be done; and

Whereas, in the opinion of the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco, said contemplated work and improvement is, and is hereby declared to be of more than local or ordinary public benefit;

Now, therefore, resolved by the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco, that it is the intention of said Board to order the following work and improvement to be done in said City, to-wit:

The construction of cement concrete sidewalks, cement concrete curbs and cement concrete gutters and the preparation of the sub-grade for said structures, on the Easterly side of San Bruno Road between the North line of Armour Avenue and the North boundary line of the City of South San Francisco, and on the South side of Butler Road between the East line of San Bruno Road and a line parallel to the West boundary line of the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and at a distance of Twenty (20) feet West-erly therefrom;

The construction of one (1) Twenty-four (24) inch corrugated iron culvert and one (1) Thirty-six (36) inch corrugated iron culvert in the locations shown upon the plans hereinafter mentioned.

All work herein provided for shall be done to official grade and in accordance with the special plans and specifications for said work, which plans and specifications for the construction of street improvement work on a portion of San Bruno Road and on Butler Road in the City of South San Francisco, County of San Mateo, State of California, which plans and specifications were heretofore adopted by said Board of Trustees on the 7th day of January, 1918, and are now on file in the office of the City Clerk and to which plans and specifications reference is hereby made for a further description of said work and for the location and extent of the work to be done hereunder and for a particular description of the boundaries of the district hereinafter mentioned. All such work is to include any and all street intersections, as is particularly shown upon said plans; there is excepted, however, from the above mentioned work, any and all of such work as has already been done to official grade.

And said Board of Trustees does hereby determine and declare that the work and improvement is of more than local or ordinary public benefit and will affect and benefit the lands and district hereinafter described, which said district is hereby declared to be the district benefited by said work and improvement and that therefore the entire cost and expenses of said work and improvement shall be and is hereby made chargeable against and shall be assessed upon said lands and district, which district is within said City of South San Francisco, County of San Mateo, State of California, and particularly bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the intersection of the northerly line of Armour Avenue with the center line of San Bruno Road as shown upon that certain map entitled "South San Francisco, San Mateo Co., Cal. Plat No. 1," which map was filed in the office of the County Recorder of the County of San Mateo, California, March 1, 1892, and recorded in Map Book No. 2 at page 52; running thence northerly along said center line of San Bruno Road to the northerly boundary line of the City of South San Francisco; thence northeasterly along said boundary line produced 176.74 feet; thence southerly and parallel to the northerly line of Butler Road, which point is distant easterly along said northerly line of Butler Road 143.43 feet from the intersection of the easterly line of Butler Road with the easterly line of San Bruno Road; thence easterly along the northerly line of Butler Road of the westerly line of the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company thence southerly along the westerly line of said right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to the intersection thereof with a line parallel to the southerly line of Butler Road and at a distance of 100 feet southerly from the southerly line of Butler Road; thence westerly and parallel to the southerly line of Butler Road to a point in a line perpendicular to the easterly line of San Bruno Road, which point is 100 feet easterly from said easterly line of San Bruno Road; thence southerly and parallel to the easterly line of said San Bruno Road to the northerly line of Armour Avenue; thence westerly along the northerly line of Armour Avenue to the point of beginning.

Saving, excepting and excluding from said district all public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts and places included and contained.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bear interest at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided by the "Improvement Bond Act of 1915," the last installment of which bonds shall mature nine years from the second day of July next succeeding nine months from their date.

"The Enterprise," a weekly newspaper printed and circulated in the City of South San Francisco, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution of Intention shall be published, and the Clerk is hereby directed to publish by two (2) insertions in the manner and form required by law.

The Superintendent of Streets shall cause to be conspicuously posted along the line of said contemplated work or improvement and along all the open streets within said district and in front of all the property liable to be assessed at not more than Three Hundred (300) feet in distance apart, but not less than Three (3) in all in each street in said district, notices of the passage of this Resolution of Intention, in the manner and form required by the "Improvement Bond Act of 1911," and the amendments thereto.

Notice is hereby given that on Monday, the 28th day of January, 1918, at the hour of eight o'clock P. M., in the Council Chamber of said Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco, any and all persons having any objections to the proposed work and improvement may appear before said Board of Trustees and show cause why said proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with this resolution.

Except as hereinbefore provided, all of the herein proposed work shall be done in pursuance of an act of the Legislature of the State of California designated as the "Improvement Bond Act of 1911," approved April 7, 1911, and the amendments thereto.

I hereby certify that the foregoing resolution was regularly introduced and adopted by the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco, this 7th day of January, 1918, by the following vote:

Ayes—Trustees F. A. Cunningham, M. E. Henly, George H. Wallace, G. W. Holston.
Noes—Trustees None.
Absent—Trustee J. H. Kelley.
Attest:
(Seal) WILLIAM J. SMITH, City Clerk.

Some Facts Regarding Gas Heating

Gas heating systems of to-day are very different to those of a few years ago.

To-day they are beyond question the healthiest, most convenient and most truly economical of systems.

Objectionable features of former systems have been wholly eliminated in connection with gas fuel.

The Rector gas heating system is instantly started or stopped by merely pressing a button and is entirely automatic in action. Other systems require but the application of a match.

The cost of operation is very reasonable, in most cases less than that of systems using solid fuel.

There are other advantages too numerous to mention here which it is in YOUR interest to know.
